New Features

Start & Due Times

Planning events, social posts, digital promotions, or work with short turn-around times? Start and Due Times allow creative and marketing teams in ignite to manage their resources more effectively by seeing the specific times that work will be started or completed. Head over to Features in your Account Settings to turn on Start & Due Times for your team and start measuring your time in hours and minutes, not just days and weeks.

Improvements

- Submit campaign requests for multiple deliverables more quickly by duplicating deliverables. Rather than manually filling out the information for each deliverable, select "Duplicate" and make any changes before submitting your request.
